Contributions to the Data Project

Kaylhan Garcia

I created the github, organized our files to stay tidy, did the Seattle and MPD exploratory data analysis, and the presentation (I created the slides, added necessary information that I have conducted), and contributed to the intro/lit review.

Here is the GitHub link so you can see each member's contribution throughout the semester on this project: https://github.com/kerawyd/data-412-mpd-use-of-force

Adam Billen

I cleaned all of our data, created the new serious/non-serious variable, conducted all of our regressions, wrote all of the analysis for the results and discussion section, and contributed to the introduction/literature review. I built the results and the introduction slides for the presentation.

Phoebe Lin

I did all of the EDA and necessary additional cleaning for Portland and Indianapolis, wrote the majority of the introduction/literature review, contributed my EDA to the presentation, and helped with the intro/lit review slides for the presentation.
